

Caroline Granqvist

Höganäs AB, Sweden

I've been working at Höganäs AB (iron powder producer) since 1995. At first I worked as a laboratory technician at Surface Chemistry - R&D, and then as a packaging operator and forklift driver in the Powder Production Plant. I returned to R&D for 3 more years and in September 2000 I went back to school (Lund University). In August 2005 I got my Master of Science in Chemistry. My position at Höganäs AB is as Raw Material Coordinator of our organic materials and also as a development engineer.
